Copyright transfer

In consideration of the acceptance of the above manuscript for publication, I/we do hereby accept that manuscripts published in GPR Journals are entirely under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution License \(CC-BY\) license. This license permits users to freely share (copy, distribute and transmit) and adapt the contribution including for commercial purposes, as long as the author is properly cited.

I/we as the author(s) do hereby retain the copyright, patent and trademark rights of the work after publishing in GPR Journals but grant a license to GPR Journals to publish the manuscript and identify itself as the original publisher. (Note: Material prepared by employees of the US government in the course of their official duties cannot be copyrighted.)

Author representations

1. I/we am/are authorized on behalf of my co-authors to enter into these arrangements.
2. The manuscript and all of its elements are original, without fabrication, plagiarism, or fraud. If the manuscript or any element of the manuscript is found to be fabricated, plagiarized, or fraudulent, I/we accept responsibility and any potential legal liability.
3. No part of the manuscript or any other element of the manuscript violates any copyright, moral right, or other right of any third party and publication of the manuscript by GPR Journals will not violate any copyright, moral right, or other right of any third party. If any graphic, photographic, and image-related elements of the manuscript have been published previously, whether in print or electronically, permission has been obtained from the copyright holder and written evidence of such permission has been provided to the GPR Journals.

4. I/we have not previously granted, and will not subsequently grant, to any person or entity other than GPR Journals a license, assignment, or other authorization of any kind to exercise any rights under copyright relating to the manuscript.

5. I/we understand and acknowledge that I/we will not receive any royalty or other monetary compensation for assigning my rights to the Publisher under this Agreement.

6. I/we understand that if GPR Journals decides not to publish the manuscript after acceptance, GPR Journals will notify the corresponding author and the agreement will expire making the Publisher to lose any rights over the paper's content.

7. I/we understand that the manuscripts that start the review process cannot be withdrawn without the approval of the editors.

Authorship: As the corresponding author, I have ensured that list of authors has been limited to those who have made a significant contribution to the conception, design, supervision, funding, materials, data collection and/or processing, analysis and/or interpretation, literature review, writing or critical review of the reported study. The others who have participated in certain substantive aspects of the research project, they should be acknowledged on acknowledgment section of the manuscript. As the corresponding author, I have also ensured that all co-authors have seen and approved the final version of the paper and have agreed to its submission for publication.

Prior publication: Information in the manuscript has not been published elsewhere in any printed or electronic format or in any language, and will not be published or submitted for publication elsewhere unless GPR Journals make a final decision not to publish this paper. Copies of any abstracts of the manuscript that have been published or that have been or will be submitted for publication, along with copies of any closely related manuscripts or manuscripts with substantially similar content, whether published or yet to be published, have been provided to GPR Journals.

Disclosure of funding and support: All funding, other financial support, and material support obtained directly or indirectly from any third party in connection with information included in the manuscript or with the writing of the manuscript has been clearly identified in the funding disclosure section of the manuscript.

Conflict of interest disclosure: All conflicts of interest, including relevant financial interests (e.g., ownership, employment, consultancies, honoraria, paid expert testimony, grants, patent-licensing arrangements, equity interests, and service as an officer or board member), activities, relationships, and affiliations (other than those listed on the title page of the manuscript) occurring at the present time or within the 3 years prior to submission of the manuscript have been clearly identified in the conflict of interest disclosure section of the manuscript.

Governing law: This agreement is governed by the laws of the State of Colorado (United States), without regard to its choice of law principles.
